LETTER ORDER REGARDING THE FILING OF MOTIONS

Dear Counsel:

Recently, there has been an increase in the number of emails from counsel regarding requests for affirmative relief. Effective immediately, and to promote the just, speedy, and inexpensive resolution of this case, see Fed. R. Civ. P. 1, the following procedure will be followed with respect to the filing of substantive motions (such as motions to dismiss, to amend the pleadings, or case-dispositive motions); discovery motions (such as motions to compel, motions for a protective order, or motions seeking the imposition of sanctions); and post-judgment motions or other motions following dismissal of the case (such as motions for attorneys fees, motions for reconsideration, and motions to reopen). If you are uncertain whether your intended motion falls within this scope, please follow the procedure. Please do not email my law clerks about filing requests for relief.

Any party wishing to file a motion first will and file with the Court in the relevant case(s) a letter (not to exceed three pages, single spaced) containing a brief description of the planned motion and a concise summary of the factual and legal support for it. If the intended motion is a discovery motion, counsel in the relevant case(s) shall confer with one another concerning the dispute and make good faith attempts to resolve the differences between them before filing the letter regarding the dispute, and the party filing the letter also shall file a certificate that complies with Local Rule 104.7. Unless I notify you otherwise, no response to the letter should be filed. I will review the letter and determine whether to schedule an expedited telephone conference (usually within a week) to discuss the requested motion and to determine whether the issues may be resolved or otherwise addressed without the need for formal briefing. Where it would be more efficient simply to approve the request to file the motion, I will issue an order directing that the motion may be filed.

If a telephone call is scheduled and the issues raised cannot be resolved during that call, I will consult with you to set a reasonable briefing schedule. If the letter described above is filed within the time allowed by the Federal Rules of Civil Procedure, Local Rules of Court, or any order issued by me in which to file the motion that the letter addresses, the time for filing the motion will be tolled to permit the scheduling of the telephone conference without the need to request an extension of time.
